

I support most of this petition. However I believe with the non-technical status of amateur radio in the 21st century, license classes are no longer required and should be reduced to "Standard" with all amateur privileges, and "Beginner" as a learner's permit. Special endorsements would be offered only to the Standard Class, such as "Experimenter" which would require more theory testing. But basically I support the ARRL proposal.